

The second visit to Ohio University
by the venerable Tibetan lama, Khenpo Karthar Rinpoche
who will speak on the topic:

“Developing Tolerance Begins with training the mind”

We can bring more understanding, compassion and tolerance into our relationships and the daily business of life through the perspective of Tibetan Buddhism.

Translating this talk will be Lama Yeshe Gyamtso

A talk for anyone, Buddhist or not.

Born in Tibet in 1924, Khenpo Karthar Rinpoche began his monastic training at age twelve. In 1976 His Holiness the 16th Gyalwa Karmapa sent Rinpoche to the U.S. as the abbot of the Karma Triyana Dharmachakra monastery. In the years since, Rinpoche has taught and guided the individual practice of thousands of students. He is the author of many books on Tibetan Buddhism.

The Tibetan Buddhist Study Group at Ohio University is pleased to present this talk by such an eminent teacher.

Admission is free.

Wednesday,
September 21, 7:00pm
Walter Hall Rotunda
Across from Peden Stadium,
Ohio University

Presented by the Tibetan Buddhist Study Group

Funding
by SAC

Sponsor:

Athens KTC
TIBETAN BUDDHIST MEDITATION CENTER

Athens KTC meets at 10:00 a.m. every Sunday for meditation and the study of Tibetan Buddhism.
Join us at the Factory Street Studio on Ohio Street. For directions and more information visit www.AthensKTC.org